

The header features a solid green bar on the left side. To its right, there is a background image of a technical drawing or blueprint. This drawing includes a circular diagram with a central point labeled 'B' and a point 'X' on its circumference. There are also numerical values like '100', '200', and '300' scattered throughout the drawing, suggesting a scale or measurement system.

Projets et programmes

En cours de rédaction...